<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Inclusive national consultation processes: Lead by the RCs and building on on-going consultations, they will feed into the post-2015 formal process</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Thematic consultations with academia, media, private sector, employers and trade unions, civil society, and decision makers on the current central challenges to the post 2015 development</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Web Portal and social media to allow open interaction and information exchange among a range of stakeholders. This advocacy work will be aligned with the ‘Future We Want’ campaign launched by the SG</td>

THE FUTURE WE WANT:
Post-2015 Development Agenda - Country Consultations

6 August 2012, New York
OVERVIEW

WHY conduct post-2015 country consultations?

WHO coordinates at the country level?

By WHEN is the expected timeline?

WHAT is the support available to countries?

HOW to submit a concept note?
WHY? OBJECTIVE OF THE COUNTRY CONSULTATIONS

Build a shared global vision on ‘The Future We Want’, with clear recommendations for governments, civil society and broad stakeholders;

Amplify the voices of the poor and other marginalized groups; and

Influence the intergovernmental processes so that they align with the aspirations of civil society for a post-2015 agenda.
UN Resident Coordinators will provide the overall strategic guidance to ensure engagement of the UN Country Team and broad participation of different stakeholders at the country level.

UNRCs may designate one or more UN agencies to co-lead the process on behalf of the UNCT.

50 countries have been identified by the UNDG Chair in consultation with UNRCs.

Post-2015 Help Desk (will respond queries within 48 hours): post2015consultations@undg.org

UNDP has mobilized financial resources to provide seed funding for UNCTs to initiate the work (roughly about USD 64,000 per country)

This amount will have to be spent by 31 March 2013
HOW TO SUBMIT A CONCEPT NOTE

Participating countries are requested to submit a concept note on the post-2015 consultation(s) through an on-line platform by 17 August.

The concept note should
(1) identify stakeholders to be engaged and
(2) describe technical challenges and specific support needed

(Template available in the Annex 1.3 of Guidelines)

A COA (Chart of Accounts) will be created once the concept note has been received
