#BeyondTheOutbreak
• Higher risk of infection as main guidance for preventive measures against COVID-19 – hand washing and social distancing – is almost impossible.

• Increased economic vulnerability during lockdowns
Informality and the COVID-19 Crisis

- Lack of devolution of urban planning functions
- Community ownership
- Building resilience
• Existing vulnerabilities heightened during the crisis but can also serve as catalyst for sustainability

• Gender mainstreaming has to be deliberate both in response strategy (50% women in COTs) and interventions (GBV support)

• No option but to take risks to protect the most vulnerable - property rate Demand Notices issued in phases
