The Production of Video Animation on SDG 11

BACKGROUNDS

- United Cities and Local Governments (UCLG) is the largest world organization of local and regional governments. Headquartered in Barcelona, UCLG's mission is "to be the united voice and world advocate of democratic local self-government, promoting its values, objectives and interests, through cooperation between local governments, and within the wider international community".
- UCLG has increased its support to member associations by seeking to understand how Cities and municipalities learn, share and exchange good practice at a local level and how local government associations can support them.
- In September 2015, the United Nations unanimously adopted 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to be achieved by 2030. This roadmap comes on the back of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and serves as a conceptual framework of future development agenda for the local government. (For the details of SDGs, please refer to the webpage <http://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment/sustainable-development-goals>, and <http://www.undp.org/content/undp/en/home/sdgoverview/post-2015-development-agenda.html>)
- This suggests that as the world is becoming more decentralized, the role of local governments is unprecedentedly significant in achieving those goals. For this, it is important that municipalities understand the SDG as such, but more importantly relate it to their own challenge priorities and agenda.
- UCLG, a catalyst for the partners including the UN to bring cities into successfully contributing to the implementation of SDGs, wants to elaborate interactive material for engaging the SDG process.

OBJECTIVE

The objective is to produce a video animation for SDG 11 “Sustainable Cities and Communities” that explains why the goal matters to local and regional governments. It should explain how the targets of the goal are related to the daily work of local and regional governments and what they can do to help achieve it.

EXPECTED AUDIENCE

- The video clips will be targeting local governments and their partners, including training institutes, United Nations, local government associations, etc.
- The video will be played and launched in the EU development days and in the UCLG Congress Bogota.
- On top of that, the materials will be posted on UCLG websites and be accessible to those who are interested.

KEY MESSAGE

- The goal of SDG 11: Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable.
- Keywords of SDG 11

This goal is about putting cities and territories at the heart of sustainable development in an urbanizing world. It directly calls on mayors and city governments to play our role in the achievement of the SDGs, starting in our towns, cities and territories.

- a. Housing and basic services: Local governments can provide public housing, rent subsidies and regulate rental markets to guarantee the right to housing. Basic service provision (water, sanitation), the direct responsibility of local governments, must be tailored to the distinct needs of urban and rural areas. As the level of government closest to the people, local governments are best-placed to work with slum-dwellers to upgrade their housing and ensure access to basic services.

- b. Public transport: Local governments have responsibility for urban public transport services. Local governments can provide green transport (trams, buses, metros, cycling lanes, pedestrian routes), promote walking and cycling and disincentivize private vehicle use to reduce emissions and improve air quality.
- c. Reducing the environmental impact of cities also depends on sustainable waste management. Local governments can reduce the environmental impact of cities by emphasizing reuse and recycling.
- d. Participatory planning and management of urbanization: local governments are ideally placed to work with communities, marginalized groups, the private sector, and national governments to ensure that urbanization is sustainable and inclusive.
- e. Urban planning should guarantee the provision of quality green and public spaces for all as a tool to prevent segregation and to ensure social, political, cultural and economic vitality and inclusion.
- f. Protect and safeguard cultural heritage: Cities are treasure troves of cultural heritage. Local governments are vital in defining, identifying and protecting tangible and intangible urban cultural heritage for future generations.
- g. Climate change, disaster risk and resilience: Cities, particularly coastal cities, are already facing the impact of climate change. It is vital that local governments take action to mitigate the effects of climate change and to protect the most vulnerable in our communities from the effects of natural disasters.
- h. Urban rural linkages: No city is an island. Urban governments can cooperate with our rural and regional counterparts to make sure that cities work in harmony with the rural areas on which cities depend for food and natural resources.
